Methodology
Study Methodology

• The SBEC/TechnoMetrica Small Business Survey was conducted online from August 12 to August 16, 2019, using a national sample of 506 small businesses, with 100 or fewer employees who advertise online for business purposes.

• Respondents for the survey came from TechnoMetrica’s network of online panel partners. Survey respondents consisted of owners, presidents, and other senior-level decision-makers.

• Based on the qualification rate for the research, TechnoMetrica estimates approximately 78% of small businesses use online advertising for their businesses.

• The error estimate for this survey is plus or minus 4.5 percentage points, using a probability sample assumption for the study’s convenience sample.

• The median employee size for the study sample is 21 and the median revenue is $950,000. While the median age of the sample is 12 year, 12% of the sample was start-ups established in the past three years.

• Geographically, 20% of the sample was from the Northeast region, 22% from the Midwest, 36% from the South and 23% from the West.
Executive Summary
Executive Summary

• Online advertising plays a key role in the development and continued growth of small businesses, according to our study of small business online advertisers.

• For the purposes of the study, TechnoMetica screened for small businesses who advertise online. More than three-quarters (78 percent) of respondents who attempted to take the survey passed the screening criteria, and are identified as “online advertisers.” The following report provides key insights into the experiences of small businesses with online advertising, based on our survey of 506 small business online advertisers.

• More than nine in ten (92 percent) online advertisers have reported using digital advertising for marketing their products and services, over the past six months. In addition, close to three-quarters (71 percent) of respondents have utilized online advertising for other business-related purposes.

• In further indication of the growing importance of online advertising among small businesses, nearly one-third (29 percent) rely exclusively on this form of advertising. Further, 71 percent of online advertisers use a combination of digital and traditional advertising.

Top Online Advertising Platforms

• Facebook is the most commonly used platform among small businesses advertising online, with more than 8 in 10 reporting using the social network in the past six months. Meanwhile, more than 4 in 10 online advertisers have used Google Ads (44 percent) and Instagram (42 percent). Twitter was the destination of nearly 3 in 10 (28 percent) small business online advertisers.

Top Online Marketing Activities

• Online advertising plays an integral role in the marketing strategies of small businesses. Digital advertising is most commonly used for acquiring new customers, with more than two-thirds (68 percent) of online advertisers citing this activity. In addition, a majority employ online advertising for increasing brand awareness (53 percent) and keeping customers posted about new products and services (52 percent).
